

My world

When the darkness still lies over the world
And many people's still asleep
Before the sun is up and spreads its light around
I hit the road that leads me to My World

Come here my friend and come and follow me in
Let me show you what's inside
See the folks that's spends their time here in this place
The ones who builds up what I call My World

*Some they stay a while , some just breafley passing by
But when the King comes in then everybody rise.
Until he sits down on his throne.*

So many years I have traveled here alone
But through the years I've made some friends
The man whose happiness is spreading all around and the Lady by his side
At the tables they are sitting one by one sharing stories from the past
And as I participates in the stories they create
I becomes a part of their world to

Now you've met some of the people in this place
So take your seat and climb onboard
'cause when you entered through the doors that led you here
In case you missed it you've become a part of my world
