

The way home

I come in here, 'cause the guy he knows my name

And I like to talk to him a while.

But I am scared, I'm scared of people now

So I can not travel all around

This feels a bit like home, here I can ease my mind

Here I can sit and talk for a while

I had a plan, to go from north to south

To take my bike one final time

But none came, to help me out,

To draw the line to where I belong

'cause when I left my home, so many years ago

The plan was always to come back

But no I'm left here on my own

And everybody saying things behind my back

And they harass me everytime

Everytime they cross my way

The coffee's done and my friend must go to work

He has given me a moment of his time

I have to leave, so I pack my things again
And I pray one day I get my chance
'cause my plan it shows, of a dream to come
Well It shows the line that takes me home
